ANNUAL MEETING & PROFORUM

Dominique Milton

Dominique Milton serves as the President & CEO of The Carolinas-Virginia Minority Supplier Development Council (CVMSDC.org also known as The Council – less of a tongue twister.)

As an Intentional Connector, Milton's goal is to create wealth by Certifying, Developing, Connecting and Advocating for Ethnic Minority Owned Businesses – MBEs

The Council serves minority business owners and corporate partners in NC, SC and VA. As a regional affiliate of NMSDC.org a 48 year-old non-profit advocacy group – they are the largest certifying agency for MBEs in the USA.

With over 14,000 Members Nationwide, CVMSDC is the go-to organization to help MBEs grow their businesses. The mission of CVMSDC is to expand business opportunities for Minority Business Enterprises (MBEs) and create mutually beneficial links between Corporate Partners and MBEs. The ultimate outcome is to add economic value to the supply chain, while increasing economic opportunities in the business community.

Voted as a Top 25 Supplier Diversity Professional, Dominique is a specialist in new business development. Milton is a proud HBCU graduate of Spelman College and holds an MBA in Marketing from Penn State. She is currently working toward a Doctorate in Business Administration. Milton has received numerous awards for retail performance, business growth, and product expansions,

Dominique and her husband William Milton Jr., CFP TM reside in Charleston, SC. and are the proud parents of three young adults.
